Those who were on the ground yesterday were: Richard Hatch, James Castle, Joe Graves, Willie Meyer and Walter Hennerick. They range in age from 8 to 15. Those selected, besides those already named, are:

Boys-Sam Brewer, Willie Esprey, Sam Lyle, Willie Biel, John Bitter, Thomas Esprey, Clarence Esprey, Joseph Cosgrove, Roy Cosgrove, Richard Brandewiede, Joe Fehrenbach, Raiph Fuchs, Willie Phipps and Albert Vogel, Girls-Selma Brewer, Celeste Lynch, Margaret Shumate, Ethel Shumate, Marie Haberman, Margaret Stevens, Marguerette Milis, Christine Johnston, Phoebe Meyer and Lucile Clark.

They come from the Shaw, Sherman, Horace Mann and Eugene Fleid schools. Miss Stevens, the teacher, is a St. Louis girl, the daughter of Principal W. J. Stevens of the Eugene Fleid School. She is a sophomore in Washington University, and was selected for the work because she has had practical work of this kind before. She conducted a school of horticulture last summer under the direction of the Civic Improvement Lesque on the corner of Tower Grove and Shaw avenues.

HOLLAND SELECTS MAY 21. Date Set for Formal Opening of Fair

Building. The decication of the Holland building at the World's Fair has been set for Saturday, May 21. G. H. Ten Brock, Holland's Commissioner, is now completing arrangements for the event.

The Exposition officials will be invited

The Expesition officials will be invited to attend, and the copy of the famous "Night Watch," Rembrandt's master-piece, to be exhibited in the building, will be shown.

The Holland building at the Fair is an exact reproduction of the Rembrandt house just outside of Amsterdam. A garden of grass, geraniums and other flowers will be laid out in the formal style of Dutch houses in rectangular flower best. The inside of the house is divided into two rooms. One of these contains the "Night Watch," which occupies the entire east wall.

GIRLS CAUSE INDICTMENT OF MRS. SOPHIA WEINZIERL

Caplas in Case Concerning Maidens Said to Have Been Enticed.

An indictment charging Mrs. Sophia Weinzieri of No. 1319 Arsenal street with having brought nine German girls to St Louis for immoral purposes will be returned by the local Grand Jury to-day, cording to a statement made by Assistant Circuit Attorney Hancock yesterday. Mrs. Weinzierl was arrested last night at her home on a Grand Jury capies by Special Officer Sherman of the Second District, and placed in the holdover at the Four Courts. When arrested she had $1,000 in money on her person and several diamond rings.

The testimony on which Mrs. Weinzierl was indicted was furnished by the nine girls who, it is alleged, were entited from Germany.

Joseph Weinzierl, husband of the indicted woman, was summoned to the Four ed woman, was summoned to the Four Courts and questioned by Chief of De-tectives Desmond in regard to a conces-sion which he has at the World's Fair sion which he has at the World's Fair grounds.

Weinzieri declares that he, as well as his wife, is innocent of any crime. He stated to Chief Desmond that he contracted for the siris through a representative of a local brewery, and that they were to have been employed as waitresses at a concession on the Pike.

The matter was carried before the local Grand Jury by representatives of several women's societies. As the matter was then in the hands of the Federal authorities. Assistant Circuit Attorney Hancock communicated with United States District Attorney Dyer, who told him that the Federal authorities had no objection to the local Grand Jury making an investigation.

Mr. Dyer yesterday asked United States Commissioner Babbitt for a continuance in the case brought against Mrs. Weinzierl. The Commissioner adjourned the hearing until Saturday morning, Mrs. Weinzierl being released on her former bond.
